

THE VENDETTA

*Every match you've ever played is on the record.
Each event it names your enemy — and hands you two ways to make them pay.*

WHO YOU FIGHT

You don't pick your rival. The record does.

Before each event the system reads your full match history and assigns you a Vendetta — the fiercest matchup it can find among the players in the room. It arrives in one of three grades.

SWORN RIVALS

You've clashed again and again. The history runs deep and the score is never settled.

BAD BLOOD

Some history between you — the best grudge available among today's field.

NEW BLOOD

No history yet. A fresh rivalry, drawn at random, waiting to be written.

HOW YOU SCORE

One question decides everything.

Come event day, whether you earn Reckoning Points (RP) or Shadow Points (SP) turns on a single fact:

THE FORK

Did you face your Vendetta at the table?

YES · YOU MET

RECKONING · RP

Beat them and settle the grudge. Swiss round or Top Cut — every meeting between rivals counts, every time.

NO · YOU DIDN'T

INTO THE SHADOW

Pairings sent you elsewhere, or your rival dropped or never came. You're still scored — by proxy.

Pairings rarely sit you straight across from your rival — so the Shadow does most of the work all season.

THE SHADOW

When you can't meet, the Shadow still watches.

You didn't play your rival this round — but you both played someone. The Shadow scores you against how your rival did in the same round.

You win your round — and your rival loses, draws, or isn't there

SP

You both win — matched strength, honours even

EACH

You lose or draw — the Shadow rewards nothing

NOTHING

TWO THINGS WORTH KNOWING

NO RIVAL IN THE ROOM? DUEL THE FIELD.

If the field is odd and you're left without a Vendetta — or you rolled in late — a clean round win still earns you +2 Shadow. Show up early and prepared and you're given a real rival; latecomers fight the field.

BYES NEVER SCORE.

A bye isn't a fight. It earns no Reckoning Points (RP) and no Shadow Points (SP) — for you or your rival. Only battles at the table move the boards.

WHERE IT ALL LANDS

Two boards. Two crowns.

Your two kinds of points are ranked entirely separately — a rival who never meets you at the table can still be hunting you in the Shadow.

THE RECKONING

Points won face to face, against the Vendetta you were handed. The record of grudges settled in the open.

THE SHADOWS

The proxy war — every round you outlasted a rival you never got to face. Tracked and crowned on its own.

Chase both. The best rivals top them together.
